AMERICA MUST EXTEND CREDIT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Aug. 6.—The Journal Des Debats in a prominent review of finance yesterday calls attention that it is America's imperative duty to recognize obligations toward France which it cannot escape, and that it must open credits to the allies as large as may be required without which they cannot continue the war. The article points out that the status of the United States is different now that she is in the war and says that it must not expect the same security as when her standing was on a private basis.

The review opens with a resume of existing conditions which require urgently that purchases outside of France must be restricted to the lowest possible limits, for if the country shows a willingness to cut down internal expenses and do without all important luxuries, then it will have a right to call on the allies for all needed financial aid. The allies know, the review adds, that France is in a peculiar position with the richest districts invaded, dependent a long time solely upon itself, and short of labor.

"England, on which we depend for coal and many other things, would not dream of refusing us credit for purchases we make there," the article continues. "We can rely on her loyalty not to demand immediately payment for our purchases. Without granting us any time at a moment when we are short of money to settle would purely and simply put us in a position of being unable to continue the war. The allies in according us the credit necessary to regulate our purchases, contribute not only to the credit of the allies but give us a chance to live and fight by their aid. What has just been said about our agreements with England applies equally as well to the relations between England, France and the United States."

"The latter are, in effect, suppliers of the allies of Europe and the allies depend much more on America than we do on England. While America was still neutral it could limit its credit to us and demand that we pay in gold a large portion of our purchases, but now that it has entered the war it would be folly on their part to wish to continue to act this way. It is absolutely necessary that it furnish England and France

U-BOAT REPORTED OFF NEW ENGLAND;
HARBOR IS CLOSEDAKRON OFFICE ROBBED
OF $1600 BY AUTO BANDITS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Akron, O., Aug. 6.—A report that a U-boat had been sighted near the trans-Atlantic cables off this port caused the war department authorities to close the harbor mouth here at 1 o'clock this morning. This gate was opened again at 6 a. m.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Akron, O., Aug. 6.—A $1600 theft from the cash desk in the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company's waiting room last night, came a series of holdups, safe blowing and miscellaneous banditry in Akron. Five crimes netted bandits $1389. An attempted bank robbery at the Commercial Savings Bank, 545 East Market street, failed, but damage amounting to over $1,000 was committed by the safe blowers, who escaped.

The Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company's money was taken at 11 o'clock when Fred Hoffman, night ticket clerk, was handing out baggage in the rear of the cage. It was not discovered for several minutes afterward when Hoffman opened the drawer and found a large hole had been cut in the heavy wire netting just above the money drawer.

Jones, Chicago business man and capitalist, whose nomination to the federal reserve board was rejected by the Senate after a memorable fight was today appointed a member of the exports administrative board succeeding Edward N. CHINA'S PRESIDENT HAS APPROVED
CABINET'S DECLARATION OF WAR

(Associated Press Telegram)
Peking, Thursday, Aug. 2.—(Delayed)—Acting President Feng Kwo-Chang today approved the unanimous decision reached at a special meeting of the Chinese cabinet to declare war on Germany and Austria-Hungary. The ministers of the cabinet powers probably will meet at the Chinese foreign office on Saturday to discuss China's declaration of war which is expected to be issued next week.

Prominent Germans in Peking are conferring with the Dutch minister to China with the object of making arrangements to go to Java. The

OHIO TROOPS TO BE KNOWN AS
37TH DIVISION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Aug. 6.—But three units of the Ohio National Guard remained to be drafted today but they will be in federal service by night-fall, according to Mustering Officer Colonel Julius A. Penn, U. S. A. Mustering work ceased with the remaining units will be drafted instead of mustered. They are the outpost company of the signal corps, Toledo, supply company of the First Field artillery, Bellefontaine, and the division staff, members who were named Saturday.

Officers here expect the Ohio army to be the thirty-seventh division but the number of the regiment is not known. Under federal service they lose all identity so far as Ohio is concerned and will become the "one hundredth and twenty-first regiment U. S. A." or such numbers as may be given by the war department. Guard organizations will be numbered from one hundred to three hundred and the draft army-regiments will take numbers from 300 on.

With the completion of mustering, Colonel Penn and his office force today turned attention to drafting the Kentucky National Guard, consisting of a brigade of infantry, signal company, field hospital and ambulance company. The work will be directed from Columbus. Three medical reserve corps officers who assisted in the Ohio muster have gone to Kentucky to assist there under the direction of Major Thompson Short and Captain Morrison, of the Kentucky Guard.

Six hundred negroes who had been recruited for the proposed Ninth regiment of the Ohio Guard, which was authorized by the war department will be paid this week for the time they were in service. Their pay is for the time they enlisted to the mustering out, completed yesterday. They will be held as reserves, subject to call. The Ninth battalion will be maintained.

Not a little interest has been taken locally in reports that Captain Thomas Dooley of the Missouri National Guard, whose engagement to Miss Helen Cox, daughter of Governor Cox, has been reported, is to be assistant adjutant general of the new Ohio division. Dispatches from Washington Saturday gave his name as "Dorby" but it is said that the Missouri officer is the one reported engaged to Miss Cox. The appointment revives reports of the early marriage of the governor's daughter. He will rank as major.

GAS BLAST KILLS
LANCASTER HOME

Lancaster, Aug. 6.—Three children, Edna, Gladys and Dorothy Gloyd, aged 8, 8 and 4, respectively, were killed late Saturday in a gas explosion at the home of a neighbor. Another child, Herbert Hanna, aged 9, and Frank Flint, aged 27, are in the City Hospital, terribly burned.

The accident occurred at the home which Flint was about to move into. The house is part of a double residence occupied by the Gloyd family. The part of the house to be occupied by Flint had been vacant for some time and the children accompanied the new tenant into the house. Unlocking the door of a room to be used as a storeroom, Mr. Flint struck a match and the explosion occurred. The children with Mr. Flint were blown from the house, terribly burned. They were rushed to the City Hospital, where the Gloyd children died within a few hours.

VILLA IS ELIMINATED
AS MILITARY FACTOR

Juarez, Mex., Aug. 6.—Francisco Villa has been eliminated as a military factor in Mexico and has resorted to his old method of banditry, according to General Murgua, commander in chief of the northeastern military zone, who is here today from Chihuahua City for a visit.

"Villa has less than 100 men and was in the vicinity of Indio, Durango, where we received our last information about him," General Murgua said. "He is no longer to be reckoned with in a military way and now is leading the life of a bandit."

Spanish minister probably will take over the interests of Austria-Hungary.

Premier Tuan Chi-Jui and his political followers insist that Feng Kwo-Chang, as vice president automatically became president when Li Yuan-Hung declined to resume office. Parliamentarians are assembling at Canton and are preparing to organize a military government with the sanction of parliament and to elect a president.

Acting President, Feng Kwo-Chang has asked for liberal appropriations to be used in suppressing the southern military element.

GERMANS FAIL IN TWO ATTACKS ON
FLANDERS FRONT

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Aug. 6.—Yesterday's tremendous cannonade on the Flanders battle front was followed last night by two German attempts to shake the British from their hold on important sections of newly won ground. Neither of these met with any success, whatever, London reports.

The first attack was launched in the Holbeke region. The Germans did not even succeed here in reaching the British lines. Later the German guns laid down a barrage at Westhoek and the infantry tried to push in under its cover. They met with no more success, however, than they had done at Holbeke.

On the French front, aside from the Flanders area, there was considerable activity on the part of the Germans. They made attacks in the region of Bouville, at Avocourt Wood and in Alsace. The French guns were able to cope with the situation in each case, Paris announces.

The strong hand of Kerensky is again at the helm in Russia where the personnel of the organized cabinet has been agreed upon under his premiership. The constitutional democrats are represented in the list.

China apparently is on the verge of a declaration of war against Germany and Austria-Hungary. A cabinet meeting decision in favor of a war declaration has been approved by Acting President, Feng Kwo-Chang and the declaration, Peking advises state, is expected to be issued this week.

Holdenville, Okla., Aug. 6.—The shooting of J. F. Moore, of Okemah, north of here early this morning, when he disregarded the orders of the guard line to stop his car, disclosed that the young man was on his way here to take a train for McAlester where he had been called for examination for entrance into the second reserve training camp.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 6.—United States District Attorney W. P. McGinnis, today afternoon that the man arrested on charges of resisting the draft in connection with the Oklahoma uprising will be tried for treason and that the death penalty will be asked by the government.

District Attorney McGinnis has sent two deputy attorneys to the indicted districts of the state to gather evidence.

A band of 26 men, alleged members of the Western Guard Union, a draft resisters' organization were reported surrounded by officers in the brush eight miles south of Holdenville, Okla., today.

The center of the uprising of the armed bands of objectors to the selective draft which for nearly a week has spread terror through four central southern Oklahoma counties, changed today from Seminole county to Hughes county, where two men were killed and two were injured last night. Shortly before midnight Ed Blaylock, an objector, was shot to death near Holdenville and two members of the posse which his band encountered were wounded. Later J. F. Moore, of Okemah, was shot and killed as he drove a motor car toward Holdenville. He apparently was unaware of conditions that had resulted in a cordon of armed citizens being thrown around the town. He was killed when he did not heed or hear an order to stop.

It was reported that one of the wounded possemen, Jack Paige, had been carried off by the registers and a heavy reinforcement of possemen started to his rescue.

Forty men were examined this morning at the courthouse by the examining physicians for the new draft army. Work was started about 8:30 and proceeded slowly for a couple of hours and then speeded up. The examination of the 40 men called will be completed today, although early indications made it appear that it would not be.

Of the first 25 men examined not one waived his right to claim exemption and each one either had filed his claim or expressed himself as intending to do so.

Otis Gibson, ground of 122 Oakwood avenue, whose service number was 258, was the first man examined—Dr. J. P. H. Stedem having the honor. Mr. Gibson will file exemption claims as he has a wife and small daughter. Mr. Gibson was in perfect physical condition and came through the various tests in fine shape.

Drs. W. H. Knauss, J. P. H. Stedem, Homer J. Davis and Lewis A. Mitchell are the examining physicians. The men are taken into a room provided where they strip and then they are taken two at a time to the physicians who examine them. Squads of 20 are ordered to prepare as needed. Each man has his weight, height and chest expansion taken. A general examination of the body, with particular attention to the eyes, nose, ears and feet, is then made. Notation of the condition of the teeth is also made. The examination is made to help around the room on his toes, balance on toes, etc., and the bottom of the feet are covered with vasoline. When the arch of the foot has not fallen away the foot is not blackened and the arches are all right.

When a man's condition is doubtful he is sent to another doctor for examination and the two separate examinations are filed together. Add Local Draft Board. The examination of 40 men began this afternoon at 1 o'clock and will continue late as 80 men must be examined. The doctors are passing the men at the rate of 15 or 20 an hour now.

After a man is examined the physician cannot tell him whether he has passed or not as the doctors have no authority in the matter. Two doctors refer the matter to the board and if they can call him to service anyway. The doctors are working for the board which has final authority.

Tomorrow is the last day for men who received notices mailed August 1. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6.)

COAL MINE BLAST

(Associated Press Telegram)
Clay, Ky., Aug. 6.—Rescuers, having partially cleared the works of gas, were prepared again to descend into Mine No. 7 of the West Kentucky Coal Company here today in an effort to reach 16, possibly 30 men, believed to be trapped who were entombed Saturday with more than 100 other miners after an explosion attributed to gas. Authorities at the mine assert they have no hope any of them are alive. They expect probably another day would be required to clear the entries of debris and recover the bodies.

The known death list today stood at 31 including 16 white men. Additional deaths among the 25 others injured are expected.

ANTI-DRAFT CIRCULARS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cincinnati, Aug. 6.—Efforts to learn who hung a quantity of anti-conscription circulars on a flower window grating of the city hall some time Sunday night, are being made by city detectives. The letter found a sheet of the circulars early Monday morning and took them to headquarters. A placard at the top of the sheet for the words "Take care." The suspicious circulars is entitled "You can not break our movement."

It contained a vicious tirade against conscription.

BARKER'S HEALTH LECTURE SPLENDID; COLLEDGE'S FINE TALK ON AFRICA

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM.
Concert, Christine Giles company;
Joy Night, Ralph Bligham.

Tuesday.
Afternoon—Music, White Hussars; Children's Hour, "Birds, Beasts and Fishes," Miss Reynolds; Monologue, "The Spinner in the Sun," William Fyre.
Evening—Pageant, "Circus Time in Fairyland," Miss Reynolds and Children; Grand Concert, White Hussars.

Sunday afternoon a fine crowd greeted Dr. Colledge to hear his lecture sermon and the concert by the Murray-Lane Opera company's orchestra.

Dr. Colledge's lecture preceded the musical program and his subject was "Tropical Africa." Dr. Colledge was well able to tell his audience of the country, having traveled with Henry M. Stanley during a three-year trip in the heart of Africa.

Dr. Colledge told of the land, its people, the animals inhabiting the inner part of Africa, the food of the people; their religion and languages. He told of the floods, every year covered with water, and at this time snakes and centipedes infest the land. The huts of the natives are built 4 to 6 feet above the ground to keep the water from entering them.

The Plant Mission of Africa, which was sent there by the Presbyterian church of Scotland, has done much for the natives. There are schools for sewing, gardening, carpenter shops, and many of the trades are taught the children.

The natives of Africa, Dr. Colledge said, live mainly on maize, rice and bananas. The leaves of the banana are used for smoking, the burning end being placed in the mouth and the smoke inhaled.

Some of the people still worship idols, or the spirits of the departed. Their marriage laws are crude; in fact, there is no law—the youth bargains for the girl without her knowledge, and her father receives sometimes two yards of calico in exchange for his daughter.

In the interior of Africa there are at least 300 different kinds of snakes. Three are the most poisonous—the green mamba, the puff adder and the python.

Dr. Colledge gave a description of the languages of the people, reciting in two of the tongues.

Following Dr. Colledge's lecture the orchestra which helped to make the opera such a success on Friday evening, gave a concert under the direction of J. E. Nichol, at the piano, who has been with Henry W. Savage, Frohman and who played in "The Merry Widow." Other members are Philip Kollmer, violinist, of the Hippodrome, New York; Bernard Heitman, cellist, who played in "The Pink Lady," and "The Lilac Domino"; Richard Nitz, who plays the clarinet, and who was with "The Spring Maid," and "Princess Pat"; Chester Heyn, with tympanums and drums, who next season will be with the Coburn players, in the "Yellow Jacket"; and Carl Schwilke, assistant band master of the First Field Artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who plays the cornet.

Their program follows: March, "Blaze of Glory"; Intermezzo, "Gaiety Rustic"; Cornet solo, "The Lost Chord," by Enrico by playing, "There's a Long, Long Trail"; selection from the opera "Mikado"; overture, "Stradella." The final number was the well known "American Patrol," by F. N. Meacham.

It was a great pleasure to the Chautauqua audience to have the privilege of hearing this splendid group of musicians, who are all accomplished artists.

In the evening their concert preceded the lecture by Dr. Sanford. The program was as enthusiastic as the one in the afternoon, and the numbers were entirely pleasing.

The program follows: March, "On the Square"; Gavotte by Gillet; La Gioconda, "Frolic of the Hours"; Cornet solo, "O Promise Me." "I Hear You Calling," by J. E. Nichol; selection from the opera "Carmen."

Dr. Sanford's Lecture.
Dr. C. M. Sanford, dean of the College of Expression of the Illinois State Normal University at Bloomington, Ill., was the lecturer Sunday evening. He has written many books and has also contributed largely to technical magazines dealing with Genetic Psychology, or Child Study.

"The Generation in the Making" was the subject of the evening and a more interested and attentive audience has not been present. Dr. Sanford dealt with a subject which is being widely discussed, studied and read about—that of the child and its foundation for the stress and strains of life.

The lecturer said in part: "There are now three generations—the fathers and mothers who came to this country, and found it in an unsettled state; these of middle-age who are now competing with the struggles of the world, and the boys and girls, who are the 'generation in the making.' What are the characteristics of these boys and girls and are they the characteristics which will assure success in life? If not, who is to blame? What can be done?"

Dr. Sanford said that G. Stanley Hall makes the statement that the 20th century youth lacks respect for his elders; lacks reverence for sacred things; has an abnormal love of his own rights and wants to dress well, move in the best society, and is not willing to work.

The lecturer then illustrated this statement with the story of an 18 year old boy, whose father and mother were unable to understand him and who did not know how to study his son. By investigating it was found that the mother had never read a book about children; who did not know that until a child is seven years of age he is a child of imagination; and the father had never had time to be a chum to his boy at the place in the boy's life when he needed his father. Therefore the boy had no foundation upon which to build his life.

Dr. Sanford said, "Not only are fathers and mothers unable to understand the youth but the church, school and city contribute their share of the burdens for the boy and girl."

So many parents are not personal enough. A man should take time to know his son and be a companion to him. A mother must be a chum for her daughter.

Dr. Sanford then made a plea for the adolescent boy and girl for he said that at the ages of 13 and 14, a child must not be nagged, neither improved in company, but that if the parents are dynamic, they need not dominate—they dominate.

Dr. Sanford gave the poem "Little Eastie" which is a pathetic little story of a grandfather who appreciated the pranks of a grandson, because he had the privilege of being with him, and the grandson showed by the poem that children are often not appreciated until after they have passed the childhood stage.

Tonight, Ralph Bligham, the "Joy Man", entertains with stories and music, following a concert by the Christine Giles company.

Dr. Barker's Saturday night lecture was of particular value to business men who habitually neglect their health while engrossed in business affairs. He made a strong plea for plain foods on the menu, moderate use of meat and simple exercises, as a means of keeping physically fit. Dr. Barker demonstrated the exercises at the conclusion of the lecture.

Dr. Barker's methods are productive of results, as many Newark men testify. Dr. Barker lectured before the Rotary club last winter and a number of the members took up the suggestions for a trial. They are free to admit that the exponent of the simple diet and exercises knew what he was talking about. All who tried the exercises and diet declared that they have been greatly benefited.

Dr. Charles E. Barker pleased his audience Saturday afternoon with his lecture on the "Fines of the Fine Arts," which is the art of always being happy. Dr. Barker formulated five rules which if followed are sure to bring happiness. He urged every one to try them, and if they didn't succeed they could put the blame on him and nothing would be lost. Here are the rules:

Cultivate the habit of always looking on the bright side of every experience.
Accept cheerfully the place in life which you find yourself each day.
Throw your whole soul and spirit into your work and do it the very best you know how.

Form the habit of doing acts of kindness and courtesy to the people you meet each day.

Adopt and maintain a childlike and simple confidence and trust in God.

In his evening Health lecture Dr. Barker said in part:

"Every year is adding to our knowledge of how to prevent disease and prolong life. Experiments and discoveries of the past ten years have been most remarkable in this field, and the day is not far distant when men and women can, by following up these conclusions, live to a ripe old age and never be sick a day in that time, and simply die of being worn out."

"In getting and keeping the body in a state of perfect health, attention must be paid to at least four things: Elimination of impurities from the system, diet, the mental condition and exercise."

There are four organs of elimination, the lungs, skin, intestines and kidneys. These organs of breathing exercises should be taken each day to keep the chest expansion up to normal. The pores of the skin should be kept open, either by exercise or a daily friction bath with flesh brushes or dry fibrous mitts. Underwear, especially in the winter, closes the pores of the skin and to offset this a friction bath is very helpful.

Third organ of elimination, the intestines, has much to do with the health of the body. Though it is a very prevalent disease, intestinal sluggishness or constipation shortens life many years and leads to many other very serious ailments. But it is entirely unnecessary and can in nine cases out of ten be cured by exercise and proper diet.

Exercise each morning the muscles of the abdomen—don't eat meat until cured, but partake freely of cereals, green vegetables and fruit, and drink from eight to ten glasses of water each day, including one glass of hot water the first thing in the morning.

In the second place, the diet plays a big part in the matter of health and disease. By studying the habits of the Bulgarians who live much longer on the average than any other race of civilized people, Dr. Metchnikoff, who is the greatest authority in the world on prolonging life, gives us his conclusion, that meat should never be eaten, but once a day and that sparingly; that the habit of drinking some butter-milk every day will do much to keep one well and lengthen life. One should learn to chew the food slowly. Most of the stomach troubles come from the habit of eating rapidly.

"Third, cheerfulness and contentment will do much to lengthen life. Many people bring on disease and shorten their lives by worrying, by once a day and that sparingly; that the habit of drinking some butter-milk every day will do much to keep one well and lengthen life. One should learn to chew the food slowly. Most of the stomach troubles come from the habit of eating rapidly."

bright side of life. Last, but not least, get into the habit of taking some kind of regular systematic exercise each day. Not the kind of exercise taught years ago, which develop merely the arms and limbs, but that kind which brings into play muscles of the abdomen and chest. Any system of home exercise, if taken moderately every day will do wonders in keeping the body in a state of magnificent vitality, but most people are too lazy to do this. The best time to exercise is the first thing in the morning, but it can be done before the other meals, or before retiring at night."

At the close of his lecture Doctor Barker took off his coat, and to the intense interest of everybody demonstrated the set of simple exercises which he declares any person not having serious heart trouble can take with great benefit to his health.

CHAUTAUQUA MEN DRAFTED.

Two members of the Murray-Lane Opera Company's Orchestra, which played so delightfully Sunday afternoon and evening at the Chautauqua are in the selective draft. Carl Schwilke, who played the cornet, is assistant band master of the First Field Artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard, and lives in Pittsburgh, received a telegram Sunday to come to that city to be ready to report for duty Monday. He left at 9 o'clock Sunday night, cancelling other chautauqua dates.

Chester Heyn, who played the tympanums and drums has passed his physical examination and is expected to be called to Omaha for service.

MRS. DE SAULLES AFRAID EX-HUSBAND WOULD KEEP CHILD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Mrs. Biana Errazuriz de Saulles will not be without friends when she is called for trial for the murder of her former husband, John Longer de Saulles, last Friday night. Relatives in Valparaiso, it was learned today, were not only ready to aid her in the forthcoming trial, but were planning to obtain permanent custody for her of her 4-1/2-year-old son, John Longer de Saulles, Jr. Cable messages from South America assuring Mrs. de Saulles that her family had not deserted her and that her brother would return at once to the United States and assist her during her trial, were received at Mineola yesterday.

It was because of Mrs. de Saulles' devotion to her son and also the fear that the husband she had divorced on the ground of infidelity was planning to keep the child from her that she killed him, according to statements made public by her attorney.

Following the statement given out by Henry A. Uterhardt, Mrs. de Saulles' lawyer, that Mr. de Saulles was a fortune-hunter, whose love cooled after he had used about half of his wife's fortune, G. M. Hecker, a cousin of the murdered man, today made public a copy of a recent letter which he said de Saulles had written his wife. The letter, which was dated June 30, speaks of the good the country life had done for the child and suggests that he be allowed to remain at the cottage Mr. de Saulles occupied. The letter also offered Mrs. de Saulles the use of a servant to take care of the child, should he remain at his father's home, and said that he would be ready to be taken away by his mother at the time appointed by the court.

When the case of Mrs. de Saulles is called for trial, according to the statements of her attorney, Mr. de Saulles will be pictured as a man who had his infidelities forgiven many times by his wife because of her devotion for the child. It was also learned the defense would attempt to show the murder was not premeditated, but that Mrs. de Saulles carried the revolver, a gift of her husband, for her own protection.

In support of this theory, Constable Thorne here said that last Friday, probably a short time before Mrs. de Saulles sent her son to go to his father, that he had been called on the telephone and told of an attempt to rob Mrs. de Saulles' garage.

Mrs. de Saulles' attorney said the revolver was not a new one but a relic of her honeymoon and had been given her by her former husband who had taught her to use it.

Mrs. de Saulles' devotion to her son was the subject of comment, according to the Rev. Dr. George M. Brewer, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church at Roslyn. He said he did not remember ever seeing her unless she was accompanied by her son. Others who, like Mr. Brewer, live near the home of Mrs. de Saulles, were quoted as saying she lived only for her child, spent all her waking hours playing with him or telling him stories while seated in the arbors on the grounds of her country home.

ACCEPT ONE IN FIVE.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, O., Aug. 6.—Wheels of the draft machinery in Ohio were in full motion today. With very few exceptions, every local board was in the midst of physical examinations. Officers at state registration headquarters expect first reports tomorrow or Wednesday, but it will be several weeks before the final ones are in. Unofficial reports from a number of districts, sent largely for information at the capitol, indicate the rejections for physical defects and claims for exemption in Ohio will be about the same as that reported from other states.

While these reports are not taken as wholly representative it is believed physical defects will bar half the men examined from service. More than half of these claim exemption, so that acceptance of one man in five would not be surprising. Prosecution of appeal by the government to protest exemptions and a new instruction to local boards to "investigate each case in the interest of the nation and never in the interest of the individual" is expected to have material effect upon reducing the number of exemptions.

Local boards have been supplied with copies of a letter from the war department urging them to narrow the limits for escape from the draft. "Remember," says the letter, "that the selected man offers his life. Remember, too, that for every exemption or discharge that is made for individual convenience or to escape personal loss of money or property or for favor or affection, some other man whose time would not otherwise have come must incur the risk of losing his life."

"You are not a court for adjusting differences between two persons in controversy," continues the instruction. "Investigate each case in the interest of the nation and never in the interest of the individual. No claimant has a right to submit other proof than that called for by regulations or than that you may call for."

DENIED EXEMPTION: WILL APPEAL.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, O., Aug. 6.—Cleveland's first draft eligible to be rejected exemption by a local exemption board is a man who was married since April 6, 1917, when the United States declared war on Germany.

Chairman James F. Jackson, of Cuyahoga county, exemption board No. 5 announced today that the exemption claim of Daniel E. Sadler, 26, has been declined on the ground that he was married since April 6, Sadler, who claimed exemption because of the dependence of his wife, was formally certified for service with the national army. Sadler today declared that he will file an appeal with the district board of appeals and fight against being conscripted unless arrangements are made for caring for his wife.

Of seventy six exemption claims considered by three local boards one was refused, twenty-five granted and fifty deferred.

The ruling that all but enemy aliens who do not claim exemption can be drafted the same as citizens are expected to prove a boost in several Cleveland districts which contain more aliens than citizens.

SECRET SERVICE AGENTS HELP.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, O., Aug. 6.—Any man in Cincinnati who files a claim for draft exemption, regarding which there is the slightest doubt, may expect to have a government secret service agent on his trail.

Arrangements were being made today whereby a great number of secret service agents will be placed by the government at the disposal of the investigating boards of the various draft districts in Hamilton county.

"We have a force of secret service agents adequate for the purpose, numerous as are the draft boards and large as is the number of claims for exemption and discharge that have been filed," said Assistant District Attorney Edward K. Bruce.

The statement was prompted by the visit of Chairman Charles E. Jones of Local Draft Board No. 9 in Cincinnati to Mr. Jones said his board did not intend to simply pass on the affidavits of men asking exemption and discharge but intended to get additional evidence. Mr. Jones explained that this, however, was something that the board members themselves could not do and neither did they have the power nor the funds to employ detectives to ferret out the evidence. Mr. Jones therefore referred the problem to the federal government.

"The government will do it," said Mr. Bruce.

GO AFTER ALIENS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 6.—Aliens were dealt a blow by two local draft district boards today. At a special joint meeting of Draft Districts 13 and 18, an open letter addressed to Cleveland employers, calling on them to put this ultimatum up to the alien employees:

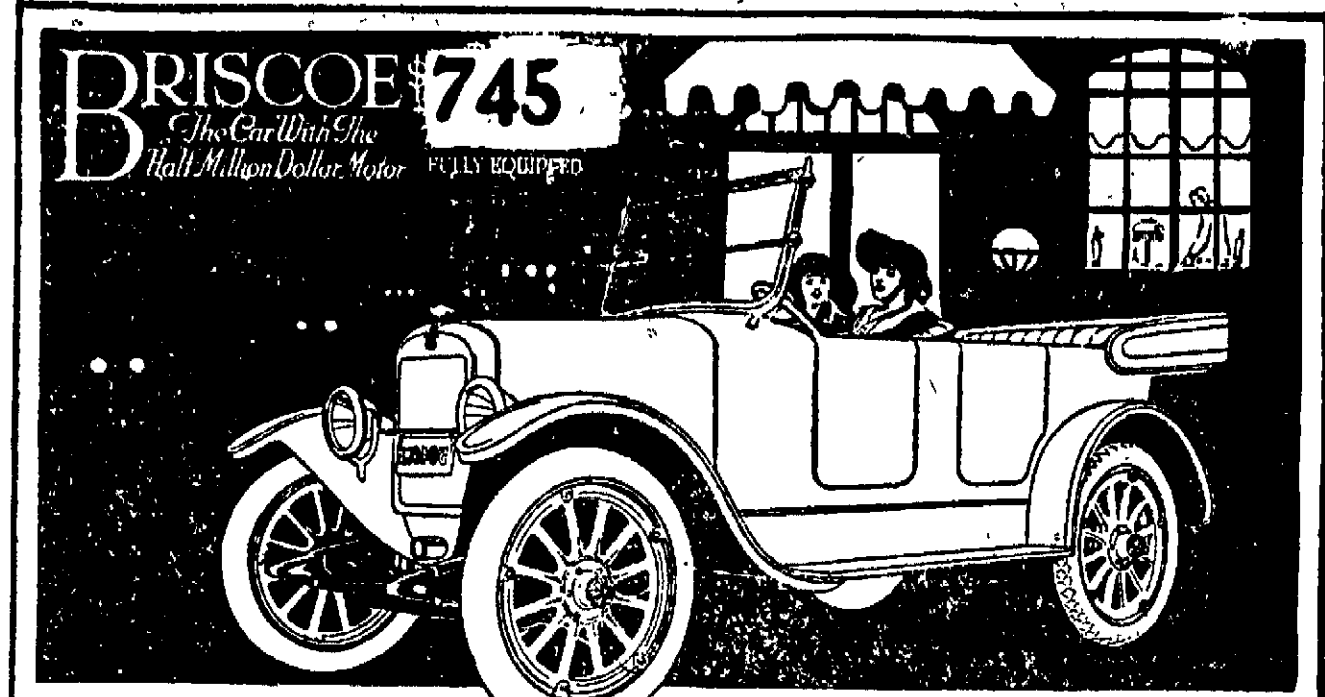

"Become citizens or lose your jobs—if you want to work with us you must fight with us."

It was also announced today that a city wide hunt for slackers would begin today or tomorrow by federal officials in automobiles.

Assistant District Attorney Breitenstein today swore out warrants for four alleged slackers, charged with failure to register June 5.

Federal Judge Westernhouse tomorrow will hear a habeas corpus case brought by John Hackenberg, a member of the Eighth Ohio Infantry, held in jail at Akron for alleged refusal to sign the "dual oath" under which guardsmen can be sent to service in a foreign land. Hackenberg claims he is only 20 years old and an unnaturalized Austrian.

THIS DRUGGIST'S TEST TURNED OUT WELL FOR OTHERS

Nerv-Worth Wonderfully Overcomes Intestinal Ills Due to Vegetable Eating.

One of the many Nerv-Worth druggists who sell this superlative family tonic in the Pittsburgh, Pa., section has found by a careful personal test that Nerv-Worth is the best medicine he has ever taken to overcome colic, cramps, dysentery and the other summer complaints which so often follow the eating of fresh vegetables. Having proved Nerv-Worth's power to do this he is urging fellow-sufferers among customers and friends to follow his example, with the result that Nerv-Worth sales in that city are breaking all records. This is no new point in Nerv-Worth's favor. It is an old story, attested to by many signed statements.

Nerv-Worth has no equal as a hot-weather tonic. It steadies the nerves, whets the appetite, digests the food, restores restful sleep, regulates the bowels, rouses the liver, banishes sick and nervous headaches and other aches and pains, builds up rundown systems. Yes, you're right! It's Ralph Bingham, manufacturer of pure fun. He's chock full of stories and gets a lot of fun out of telling them, especially to a Chautauqua audience.

The Philadelphia Times says Bingham is "a rare bird, a humorist who is funny."

That certainly is the truth, for he makes you laugh until your sides ache. And when it comes to music Bingham is perfectly at home. He sings and plays the fiddle to beat the band. And it's real playing!

Bingham makes phonograph records. Get your Victor dealer to "put on" "Mrs. Rastus at the Telephone," "The Possum Hunt," "Mrs. Rastus Johnson at the Wedding," "Goldstein Behind the Bars," "Jests From Georgia," or "The Boy in the Bleachers." They're all good.

AUDITORIUM

Tonight Auditorium patrons today and tomorrow will get a great treat in seeing for one price of admission the big Paramount pictures, the "Forbidden Paths" with Vivian Martin and Sessue Hayakawa, and "Mice and Men" with Marguerite Clark. "The Forbidden Paths" is a story of a love affair between a Japanese artist and a young American girl. The former realizes his case is hopeless on account of the difference in race, but stands by his colors, finally sacrificing even life and honor for her happiness. It is a typically fine Paramount picture, and the scenes are "laked" with Japanese scenes and both Miss Martin, who wears some gorgeous Japanese gowns and Sessue Hayakawa in Japanese broad clothes, make a very pretty appearance. In "Mice and Men" Miss Clark gives one of her best acting parts and she is ably assisted by a good Daniel Frohman cast of players. This film will positively be seen today and tomorrow. On account of the error in bookings last week, the Auditorium patrons get to see the two big photoplays for the one price of admission. This evening's showing will start promptly at 8:30 and the screenings will commence with "Forbidden Paths."

rium theatre today, made the acquaintance of his domineering little Japanese actress-wife in Japan many years ago, when she was a child of about four and he was a tall young lad of twelve or thirteen. Little Tsuru Aoki, his wife, was at that time playing child parts in Madame Yacco's company. Later the talented couple found each other again at the University of Chicago where both were studying English literature and drama. The acquaintance which had begun in the little Japanese theatre in the studios of the Paramount pictures where the two worked together in many productions, and also resumed their study of the English language. It is said that Miss Aoki has become so proficient in the English language that she has almost forgotten her own, while her husband is well known as a translator of many of the most famous English classics into Japanese.

"The Love That Lives" A serious break in diplomatic relations between Pauline Frederick and her hairdresser occurred the other day at the Famous Players studio where the great actress was rehearsing for her latest picture, "The Love That Lives."

This was occasioned by Miss Frederick absolutely refusing to comply with the dictates of the tyrannical hairdresser who would have unceremoniously shaved the part of Molly, the scrubwoman. Pauline Frederick, on the other hand, not only took out all the bewitching curls and waves, but added a straw or two and some pulls and jabs for good measure. The result more than justified her expectations, however, and even the protesting hairdresser was obliged to admit that she "looked like the part."

"The Love That Lives" will be the attraction at the Auditorium theatre on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The Chaplin Picture Manager Fenberg, again was compelled to disappoint his Saturday patrons on Saturday, when Charlie Chaplin in "A Mirth of a Nation" failed to arrive. But he has positive assurance from the film company which he made arrangements for this feature with, to get it for showing sure next Saturday.

In a long distance telephone to Chicago yesterday the film man said the film through an error had been shipped to Newark, N. J., the mistake being made by one of the boys in the office, but he assured the manager that it would be returned for our use Saturday next.

Notes

Frank Keenan, the celebrated star will be screen at the Auditorium next Sunday in the great race track story "The Thoroughbred." This drama from the Triangle studios, written by C. Gardner Sullivan is one that should thrill all who see it. The two-reel Keystone comedy is an added feature.

Miss Gladys Brockwell, noted Fox star, will be seen at the Auditorium Friday and Saturday of the present week in the wonderful story, a problem of the modern woman "To Honor and Obey." In the cast besides Miss Brockwell is seen Bertam Grassby, Charles Gray, Joseph Swickard, Willard Louis and Jewell Carmen.

Pathe News today at the Auditorium is full of latest war news. This feature is proving a big drawing card at the Auditorium both Monday and Saturday.

Mrs. Vernon Castle in Patria, Episode No. 6, will be seen at the Auditorium Wednesday. This episode is said to contain some thrilling moments.

"The Stolen Treaty" One evening the girl said to him: "I'd love an adventure—something really dangerous—but something worth while." She didn't know that he belonged to the secret service and that it lay in his power to embark her on an adventure that would give her excitement enough to last her all her days. But the opportunity came sooner than either of them expected. An important treaty was stolen from the department of state and held by blackmailers, and the task of recovering the stolen paper was assigned to the man. Of course he couldn't tell the girl the particulars, for business of state is not a matter to be lightly told. "This is what I want you to do," he said to her. "It is full of danger—full of excitement and risk—but you must not ask me to explain anything until our work is done. Will you help me?" "Yes," said the girl. Then followed a series of adventures the like of which even her most daring fancy could not have anticipated. And you, too, may share in these adventures, give yourself up to the lure of the chase for the stolen treaty, and be a party to a delightful little romance. If you'll follow Earle Williams and Corinne Griffith in "The Stolen Treaty" at the Grand tonight and tomorrow.

ALHAMBRA

Tonight and Tomorrow Gail Kane, the famous young actress who is starred in a new Mutual American production, "The Serpent's Tooth," is one of the few performers of the legitimate stage who have taken naturally to the screen without a vexatious course of adaptation. Miss Kane's natural aptitude has been enhanced by the fact that she is a perfect mimic. Her face and figure as well as her gestures are photographically perfect and, as Director Rollin Sturgeon says, she might have been born to the motion picture drama, so thoroughly is she at home in it.

On Wednesday and Thursday at the Alhambra theatre the attraction will be "The Prince of Pride," the latest "World-Famous Brady-Made in which Carlyle Blackwell and June Elvidge are the stars and in which Evelyn Greeley and Frank Mills are in the superior cast. The story is a thoroughly delightful and interesting one and it moves swiftly from sensation to sensation. Mr. Blackwell is convincing and effective in a remarkable dual role. June Elvidge is very well cast and Evelyn Greeley is charming. See this attraction.

Today marks the initial appearance of Morris Street's Land of Joy Girls at the Lyric theatre by presenting the mythological absurdity, "The Land of Joy." INDIVIDUAL PREPAREDNESS

This is a time when our people need to be strong of muscle and steady of nerve.

Hysterical people are of no use in war time. When they try to help they hinder.

Preparedness should start with the individual. If you are run-down and nervous, pale and lacking in strength to do your part, you need more blood.

If your hand, your thumb or foot trembles when you try to hold it still, if the lines are shaky when you write, if you have tremors of your lips or chin, your nerves need strengthening.

Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless, non-alcoholic and certain in their action which is to build up the blood and to restore vitality to the run-down system.

For those who are failing in strength Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. "Building Up the Blood" is a booklet, full of useful information. So is the pamphlet on "The Home Treatment of Nervous Disorders." They are sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

DR. BARKER'S EXERCISES.

If people will eat good, wholesome food, simply and thoroughly cooked, will eat because they require food and not because the taste is pleasing, will take plenty of exercise of the sensible, rational kind, will drink eight to a dozen glasses of water daily, take care of their bodies by proper friction and bath, and will put their whole soul in their work as well as their pay—they will not only cease to be conscious that they have a digestive tract but they will be happier, capable of far better work and will add in almost every instance years to their lives.

This in brief was the message brought to Newark Saturday night at the Chautauqua tent by a former resident of this county, Dr. Charles E. Barker, now one of the best known and most helpful lecturers upon the American platform.

In the afternoon Dr. Barker gave his celebrated address on "Happiness." At night his subject was "Health." Dr. Barker, who was graduated from Denison university at Granville in 1894, is said to be the only man who is giving two platform lectures a day and he speaks seven days each week. A program of daily systematic exercise, proper diet and care of his body makes him able to do the work without fatigue.

Dr. Barker did not tell his audience how or why he entered the work upon which he is now engaged, but it is known that he was, at one time, physically a few years ago, a medicine failed and doctors gave him up but he solved the problem himself, discarded drugs and diet, through exercise and diet rebuilt himself. His work came to the attention of the late Dr. Murphy, the celebrated Chicago surgeon who was largely responsible for Dr. Barker's service to President Taft. He was in the White House daily with Mr. Taft during his occupancy of the presidency and upon one occasion he attended a meeting when the speaker was unable to proceed. The chairman called upon Dr. Barker, who though unprepared, was so full of his subject that he spoke for an hour on exercise and diet and his address was so well received that he had numerous calls for public gatherings and naturally drifted to the lecture platform. In the last four years he has spoken in every state in the union but two.

Dr. Barker at the conclusion of his address Saturday night removed his coat and illustrated a number of exercises which he explained and showed him to be very beneficial. He was in town last winter and spoke before the Rotary club. Members of that organization who have since followed his simple suggestions with regularity are ready to testify that every word he spoke at the Chautauqua tent Saturday evening was truth.

A WOMAN'S INVENTION.

Realizing that thousands of women in Ohio who are attempting to comply with the government's requisition for the preservation of food by increasing the amount of vegetables canned, are unable to provide themselves with the relatively expensive apparatus in the shape of steam canners or cookers recommended by the government, Mrs. Ida Durbin of Fredericktown in the adjoining county of Knox, connected with the Extension Department of the Ohio State University, has evolved a simple and practical device which is equally effective and which any farmer's wife can have made for the cost of $2. The essential feature is a large can or some other tin container of practically the same size These are common in farm houses throughout the country. Mrs. Durbin's scheme consists of this can, with a false, perforated bottom, and a series of supports which hold it about one-half inch from the true bottom of the can. Between the true bottom and the false bottom, an ordinary metal faucet is soldered into the can. Water is placed in the can, and the same method of cold pack preserving is employed as is used with the high priced canner recommended by the experts. There is the "usual" tight cover with a handle on it. By means of the faucet the housewife can draw off the hot water at the end of her cooking, without the discomfort and attendant danger of coming in contact with the hot steam. The can may then be lifted from the stove, and the jars of fruit or vegetables removed at the convenience of the housewife. A hard can of the ordinary dimensions will hold for seven quart jars used in the canning process.

Mrs. Durbin is demonstrating her invention this summer in the vicinity of her home and at other points in the state, and expects to embody it in her extension work for the university during the coming winter. It is not her intention to have the device patented, but she is making it available to housewives throughout the country. She has found that tinners generally will make one of these devices complete for $2.00, and where anyone owns a can suitable, the expense is even less.

The Art of Ad-Writing

NO. 5. The retail merchant does not begin to realize how much help he might have in ad writing from the concern or salesman who sells him the goods. These salesmen are specialists in the sales art. They are running over with facts and information. Suppose the buyer, in giving his order, should say something like this:

"You may have my order this year on one condition that you give me a little help in making my sales. I want some good advertising stuff, cuts and descriptions and good selling talk."

The result of that would frequently be an offer of cuts, ads, catalogues and booklets describing the goods and processes of manufacture. The average salesman will talk enough in half an hour to provide the stuff for a dozen ads.

A merchant remarked to an ad solicitor one day, "Well, I suppose I ought to take some space, but I don't know what to say."

The ad man said nothing, but provided around the store a bit. "Pretty good line of men's suits," he ventured. "Where do you get 'em from?"

That started something. The merchant could talk fast enough then. He had been buying the line ten years. No customer had ever claimed the goods were defective, and lots of men came back year after year for a repeat. The salesman had told him the firm was doing three times as much as it did in 1907 when he began buying.

"What more do you want?" asked the salesman. And he sketched out something like this:

TENTH ANNIVERSARY SALE.

For Smith, Jones & Co.'s Suits.

It is now ten years since we first sold this line. No suit was ever brought back as defective or unsatisfactory.

Scores of men return year after year for them. Tasteful fabrics, quiet but distinctive. The Smith, Jones & Co.'s business has tripled in 10 years. Style and Economy sell these goods. Try the $22 suit, equal to any $40 goods the tailor ever sold you.

"Gosh," said the merchant. "That's the stuff. How much for that in half page?" And he took it.

ISN'T THERE ENOUGH TO GO AROUND?

(New York Herald.)

Rear Admiral Gleaves' report of the attacks made by German submarines upon American transports coming to the United States, and the responsibility for the famous "elaborated" report sent out by the secretary of the navy as a Fourth of July message to the American people. The assumption that the enemy had been informed in advance of the place of rendezvous was that of Rear Admiral Gleaves, not of the elaborated Fourth of July message. Rear Admiral Gleaves tells of two attacks and shows the probability of a third. There is no mention of attack "in force" in the official report, but the facts presented show that there was an attack in force—in as great force, doubtless, as the German admiralty could summon to the purpose.

The report of Rear Admiral Gleaves will remove from the minds of the American people any doubt of the genuineness of the attack that may have been raised by the persistent efforts of some newspapers to discredit the account of the affair given out by the navy department for publication. It should, moreover, give them an understanding of the magnitude of the achievement of the cruisers and destroyers under Rear Admiral Gleaves' command in safely conveying across 3000 miles of sea a large army force—an achievement unequalled in the annals of war. Will it not also inspire in the minds of Americans wondering that in an evident effort to discredit an individual some newspapers have tried to make an achievement of which every American should be proud?

JAPAN CONCERNED.

(Ohio State Journal.)

There are inkblings in the newspapers that Japan is ready to help the United States in its war on Germany, if it is willing to change some of its immigration laws against Japan and not insist upon the open door in China. The former contemplates an act of justice, whereby Japan will stand on the same footing toward the United States that other nations do, and the latter, a change to a more diplomatic relation that this country might properly consent to. But see what it would do. It would increase the army directed against Germany a million men and furnish the allies with the addition of a big navy. We have a great war on hand. With Japan taking an active part in it, it would soon end. That country could send its soldiers to the east front and drive the German army to Berlin. It would be a wonderful assistance, soon given, all of which are far in excess of the friendly concessions Japan asks of us.

DUTY OF PATRIOTIC WIVES.

(Philadelphia Record.)

If there are to be widespread claims for exemption from service to the country on the part of young men of draft age who are married and have no children, but who have healthy young wives, we will be a much longer time in placing a new army in the field than is consistent with the present war. Under the law married men who have wives dependent upon them for support can claim exemption after they are declared physically fit by the doctors who examine them. It is not inconsistent with patriotism where a young man has a wife and children to support to claim exemption, but it does seem that where there are no children in the family, and where the wife is a healthy young woman well able to work and with plenty of work waiting for her at good wages, she ought not to be less willing to turn in and help the country by surrendering her husband as a fighter in a just war than the many mothers who are giving up their sons and turning their own energies to the support heretofore provided by them.

In cases where the young wife is really unable to earn her own living it is consistent with honor and patriotism for her husband to claim exemption from the army. That is a case in which the wife is really dependent upon the work of her husband, but in the case of a young woman who is a wife and without children, and who is able to earn her own living, the only good reason why she is dependent upon her husband for support is because she is not willing to work and support herself. There are millions of American women, older and physically weaker than some of the wives of childless husbands, who hustle and support themselves.

This is a time for some sacrifices on the part of childless wives of husbands under 31 years of age, as well as of fathers and mothers whose unmarried sons are accepting the call of their country.

YOUTH AND AGE IN WAR.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)

General Pershing's recommendation that men over 45 be not sent to France as general officers for active service in the field illustrates vividly the mechanical character of twentieth century warfare. We have regarded major generals and brigadiers somewhat awfully as past masters of strategy, organization, leadership and command. They may be all of that, but, except as study, training and experience, put them in line for promotion, they are of no more use than a piece of machinery. The quality of age and the respect universally paid to merit attested by achievement of rank are comparatively minor considerations in the choice of division and brigade commanders in the field. These generals are in fact but superintendents of departments. Campaigns are planned miles away from their headquarters and without reference to their opinions. They are in the thick of the fight, passing along the orders from general headquarters, and seeing that they are carried out, for them there is no more glory than for the private soldier. It is all so different from what we have conceived military organizations to be! But in it we see application to the army of the industrial rule that terrorizes the man upon whom middle age is creeping. "Young men for action" closes the doors of hope to all who have not made their places secure before attaining the dead line of 45. Yet we need not be discouraged.

The very war practice that confirms the unjust discrimination set in motion or given impetus by Dr. Osler's thoughtless jest is giving the oldsters a chance in industry. Business is glad to get middle-aged men now. Perhaps in the emergency they will dispense the theory under which they have been shelved in the recent past. At the same time the military axiom that age is necessary to a rank is in a far way to be exploded. There may be more of justice all around.

THE REGULAR ARMY.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Now that the regular army has secured practically all the men required, some 183,000, to bring it up to its full strength of 233,000, it becomes interesting to note where the volunteers come from upon whom will devolve the duty of carrying the American flag to the front during the next few months. It is a pity, for not a single southern state has yet failed its quota, whereas all the big northern commonwealths have done so with the exception of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Illinois, which lead in population, have also led in recruiting, and will probably furnish a third of the 183,000 new soldiers. All three have much exceeded their quotas, as have also Massachusetts, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska, California, and other western states. Outside of the southern states, the poorest showings are made by Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Arizona, New Mexico, Wisconsin and North Dakota. Just why northern New England should be so indifferent to the call of patriotism is one of the mysteries of the recruiting.

We don't get enough of the principle that a lawyer is an officer of the court and has equally with the judge a duty to see that the law itself is to be first considered and that the mere winning of a case is of a minor consideration. The practice of law is a business to be sure, but it is a mission, also, and the judiciary should see that that feature is not lost sight of. Community Singing.

That there is inspiration and surcease from the worries of life in "a good sing" is a fact that is finding recognition in the movement for "community singing," which is spreading to all parts of the country, and which this summer has found new impetus in the prevalent war spirit. There is no intention of giving to these impromptu concerts any of the exclusiveness that would cause them to be of interest only to those persons who "know how to sing." Such an attitude at once would destroy the avowed purpose and interfere with the success of the "community singing" movement. Everybody is invited to "join in" with a will, to best of his ability, and to have a share in the enthusiasm and exaltation of spirit that invariably result when the voices are united in some familiar song.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

DANISH WOMAN REGAINS HEALTH

Tells Everybody What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Her.

Chicago, Ill.—"It gives me great pleasure to let others know that I improved in health with the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I am entirely well. Before taking it I could not do any kind of work without a pain in my back as I suffered so much from inflammation. I had headaches, was always tired and no appetite. Words cannot express my gratitude for the good your medicine has done me, and through me to my family. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women suffering from female troubles, particularly to Danish women."—Mrs. META DAMGAARD-MATZAN, 2137 Kimball Ave., Chicago, Ill.

It is positively true that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

MARTIAL CREATIONS NOW MUCH IN VOGUE

Military creations are going to be much in vogue this fall, and this is one of the most pleasing of the advance autumn modes. It is made of white serge or broadcloth of a distinctly military cut. It gives dignity and grace to the wearer and seems to embody the war spirit of the woman of France. The strip of black braid and skirt pockets are its only trimmings.

Joy of Pockets.

The pocket has to be lacked before it is properly appreciated, the London Chronicle says. This writer had taken his pockets as a matter of course until one evening he attended a fancy dress ball in costume which he discovered when too late to remedy the defect, was absolutely pocketless. The question at once arose what to do with pocket handkerchief, money, cloakroom ticket, and so on. The handkerchief, of course, went up his sleeve, but it took some minutes to devise receptacles for coins and other necessities in the lining of the cap, the heels of the shoes and the cuff of the coat. All night long, however, he felt lost through having no place to thrust his hands into. Since then he finds himself frequently putting his hands into his pockets to experience the sheer joy of knowing that they are there.

May Be the Oldest Book.

In an ancient Samaritan synagogue at Shechem a double roll of parchment is guarded jealously and is zealously preserved. It was to Shechem that Abraham came in his first visit to Canaan. Near Shechem Jacob sank his famous well, and the returning Israelites heard here for the last time the voice of Joshua. Shechem was the first residence of the kings of Israel and was a city of refuge. Here at Jacob's well Jesus met the woman of Samaria. Here the great Justin Martyr was born. After the division of Israel into two kingdoms Shechem became the religious center of the northern kingdom, and Jeroboam's self-appointed faith degenerated into the Samaritan worship of our Lord's day, which is perpetuated in the old synagogue which holds this scroll. This double roll of parchment, possibly the oldest in the world, contains the first five books of the Old Testament and may be as old as the days of Jeremiah. —Christian Herald.

Care of Harness Leather.
Harness leather cannot be neglected without injury that lessens its durability. It should be washed and oiled frequently. The washing should be done in tepid water with a neutral soap and a sponge or stiff brush. After rinsing in clean tepid water the harness is hung up to drain a little while before oiling.

For driving harness neatfoot or castor oil is best, but for heavy harness there may be some tallow in the oil. The applications should be light for driving and liberal for heavy harness. The oil, warm to the hand, is rubbed thoroughly into the leather while it is still wet from the washing. Excess oil which the leather is unable to take up should be removed with a clean, dry cloth. —New York Sun.

MORE VICTOR RECORDS.
The melodious "Forbidden Music" makes a Caruso record which will delight all who admire Caruso. There is no singer before the public today who is more consistently at his best, but he seems particularly happy in singing Italian songs, and especially so in the tuneful and emotional number "Marche Lorraine" is a fine spirited march song which has long been very popular in France, and Marcel Journet gives a splendid interpretation of it, seemingly taking upon his shoulders the blue-gray form of the poilu.

Physical Examinations.
There is a side to the whole problem of physical examination which is very important. I am interested in physical examinations, not to shut men out of work, but to use them more intelligently and to give them a proper chance. Oftentimes employers and the men affected do not know that something has gone wrong with an employee. There was one concern that did not care two straws about physical examinations and would not pay any attention to the question. One day an elevator man took up a party of investors who were going to a board meeting in the establishment. He was seized with heart disease right between the floors, but fortunately the elevator stopped itself by the rarest good fortune. The executives of the plant now agree that physical examinations are no idle luxury. Men owe it to themselves, the company owes it to itself, and the company owes it to its employees to have such examinations. —Meyer Bloomfield in Industrial Management.

Women Sell "Gas"
So Men Can Fight

SINCLAIR OIL TRYING EXPERIMENT AT ITS AUTOMOBILE FILLING STATIONS.

So that more men will be available for special war duties, the Sinclair Oil and Refining Corporation is employing women as attendants at gasoline filling stations. If the experiment proves to be as satisfactory as anticipated, several hundred will be given regular positions.

A. Sheldon Clark, who is in charge of the distributing of refined oils for the Sinclair Corporation, reports that he has found the girls to be courteous and highly efficient. "My idea in doing this," he explains, "was prompted largely by the fact that there might be a shortage of male help when the draft goes into effect. I believe that every effort should be made by large corporations so to arrange their operations as to utilize the energies of women in relieving men who otherwise might not be able to serve their country most effectively."

Fragrant Wild Flowers.

Readers of the American Botanist have been trying to decide which is the most fragrant American wild flower, and their opinions on the subject exhibit remarkable diversity. In New England the majority give first choice to the pink azalea, with the white water lily second. There are many votes for the trailing arbutus; but, as the editor suggests, its fragrance is doubtless overestimated owing to the fact that it is the earliest fragrant wild flower of spring. Other candidates for the first place are the partridge berry, the common locust, horned bladderwort of which John Burroughs says, "In a warm moist atmosphere the odor is almost too strong", yellow jessamine, spotted watergreen and some of the monardella.

Do you really clean your teeth?

Tonight, after you brush your teeth, examine them closely. What will you find?

In all probability an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. Your dentifrice does not REALLY CLEAN!

Loss of teeth is usually caused by Pyorrhea or by decay. Both usually develop only in the mouth where granular tartar is present.

SENRECO, a dentist's formula, REALLY CLEANS. It contains specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. It is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly SAFE, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

DEATH PENALTY FOR TREASON TO BE ASKED BY U. S.

captured and it was expected that the posse which went to his aid would capture the band.

More than 200 members of the various bands—mostly of the poor tenant farmer class, with a number of negroes and a few Indians—had been placed under arrest today and it was announced from the base of operations at Sasakwa, Seminole county, that with the exception of two bands, "one comparatively strong, it was believed the section was cleared of bands of the malcontents."

Among the registers captured are said to be several of the leaders, while at least three of the men held responsible for spreading the propaganda with the mythical promise that resulted in the uprising are believed to be at large. It is intimated that their names are known and officials expressed the belief that with their capture the outbreak would be put down completely. Three men have been killed in the four days of guerrilla warfare in which hundreds of heavily armed men have stalked each other through the rough and timbered country. Wallace Cargill, an aged leader of the objectors, was killed Friday.

Full blooded Indians, many of whom at first were reported to be among the hostile bands of government enemies, have rendered valuable assistance in hunting down the resisters. They have followed trails over the difficult country that would have been impossible for white possemen to have noticed.

Although many of the tenant farmers who have neglected their crops to take to the warpath have sent in word, usually by women, that they were ready to surrender and return to their civil pursuits, officials said that several of those still at large are among the more dangerous elements.

They expressed the belief, however, that with the augmented force of possemen in the field today the uprising would soon be brought to an end.

AMERICA MUST EXTEND CREDIT TO ALL ALLIES

with all they need. It is realized that in America everyone has not taken into account the exigencies of the situation.

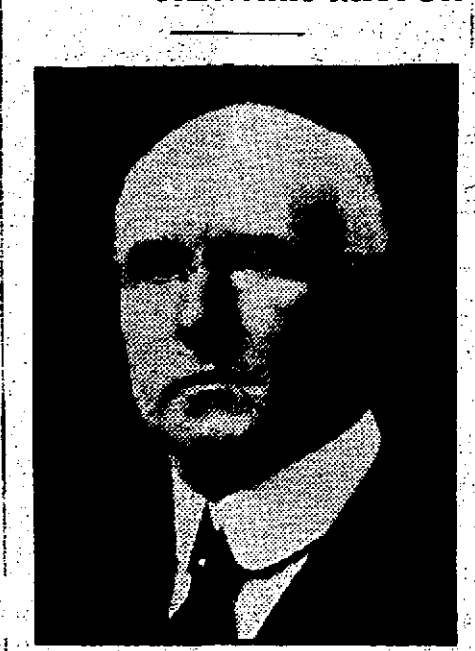

"Some people still figure it is possible to make war with peace-time finances. Likewise many have been somewhat frightened at the amounts of credits necessary for the allies. Americans have not been familiar with sums current in allied countries, but they will become so by the exigencies of the situation. Already they have slightly relaxed the strict regulations imposed on banks. They will go by the force of circumstances, much farther along this line for it is impossible that a war which overturns the economic life of the country should leave absolutely intact its financial mechanism. The United States will do as other belligerents and can do so least inconveniently because they have been enriched since the beginning of the European war.

"They will open to the allies of Europe credits as large as may be needed, for to refuse them would be to make a continuation of the war impossible. But it is important that Americans take account as soon as possible of obligations which they cannot escape. Every delay in their action, every hesitation risked might have the most serious consequences for the allies. This is what must be understood in America and what one does not seem to have understood yet to judge by the shipment of gold which England has to send to America. That neutrals must be paid in gold is easily understood, but payments of gold should not be necessary between allies who have the greatest interest in seeing that one does not create embarrassments for the other."

(Children under 12, half fare)

The Steamer Lakeland, is a staunch steel freight steamer of the most modern design. She carries general merchandise on the up-trip, and flour from the Minneapolis and St. Paul mills on the down trip.

As the passenger business of this company is a by-product of their freight traffic, the steamers of this line do not require additional crews for the handling of passengers, thereby making it unnecessary to draft men from productive industries during the war.

FEATURES

A piano and victrola are maintained on the Lakeland for the pleasure of the passengers and dancing is indulged in every evening.

For those who desire to take trips while the boat is at Gladstone picnic lunches will be furnished.

Automobiles, motor-boats and sail boats can be obtained at Gladstone at moderate rates.

Remember---$37.75 Covers Everything for the Six-Day Trip. Children Half Fare

This is one of the most delightful trips in the world. The steamer leaves Cleveland on sailing dates at 11:00 P. M. The Cruise takes the passenger through Lake Erie, the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, The Flats, justly termed, "The Venice of America," and on up the beautiful St. Clair River, past Port Huron and through the St. Clair Rapids into Lake Huron, second largest body of fresh water in the world. Early morning finds the ship passing the bluffs of Thunder Bay and entering the Straits of Mackinac. A stop of five hours is made at historic Mackinac Island. Leaving the island at 6 P. M., the site of old Fort Michilimackinac on the mainland is quickly passed. Just across the Straits is St. Ignace, the spot where Marquette established his first mission. Past the Garden Islands and Beaver Island the ship goes in the night, and morning discovers the entrance to Green Bay. This is an entrancing sheet of water. On its west shore, and guarding the entrance to Little Bay de Noquet, is Escanaba, the great iron ore and lumber shipping port. Seven miles up the bay, and reached by a tortuous channel and protected by towering hills, is Gladstone, the northwest terminus of the Northwestern Steamship Company. This is the summer country par excellence. Hay fever is unknown, and the pine-laden ozone produces the most restful sleep. It is the fisherman's paradise. Trout abound in the swiftly flowing streams, while bass rise to the fly. Along the shallows of the Bay, pike and pickerel are so plentiful that large strings are caught from the docks on the Gladstone Bay front. Across the bay from Gladstone and quickly reached is Maywood, the most beautiful resort on Lake Michigan. Bathing, picnicking, sailing, motoring, and fishing keeps one busy while the ship is discharging and taking on cargo. A dance is given on shore the night the boat is at Gladstone. Just a few minutes street car ride from Gladstone is Escanaba, a city of 20,000 people.

The Lakeland leaves Gladstone at 3 P. M. the second afternoon and passes through the Straits of Mackinac, the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers by daylight, arriving in Cleveland at 3 P. M. the sixth day.

BUILDING READY FOR NEW FACTORY BY SEPTEMBER 1ST

C. L. McBride, the president; R. S. Holbrook, secretary, and J. C. McWhirter, sales manager, returned Saturday evening to Toledo to prepare for equipping the Newark plant. Before departure, they made arrangements for increase of their capital stock from $100,000 to $150,000 to provide funds for equipping the local plant.

Before leaving they expressed their confidence in the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the promptness with which arrangements for their location here were made.

"Newark is the type of a town we planned to establish a plant in addition to the ones we operate in Toledo and Detroit," said President McBride. "Because of the great demand for workers by automobile and

PROMPT ACTION FOR MEN WHO ENLIST IN AM. FIELD SERVICE

Americans who want quick action in getting to the war zone, are joining the American Field Service in France. Within a few weeks after enlistment they are close to the firing line doing a great work for France and for the cause in which the United States is interested.

Enlistments in this service are not followed by many months of intensive training and the recruit gets the chance to throw his weight into the fight promptly.

These facts prompted Marshall J. England of Zanesville to enlist in the service according to his letter to Walter Varney, who is in Newark in the interest of the service. Mr. England sailed from Boston last week for France and just before leaving he sent the following letter to Mr. Varney telling why he enlisted.

He says: "In the first place, when I decided some weeks ago to join the service, the circumstance uppermost in my mind was to get into some organization whereby I could give immediate service, and get into action in the war zone in the least possible time. I did not care to be held up for six months or a year training in this country, (although I well realize the necessity of same for the men going into the regular army or navy).

I have had the pleasure of talking with some of the men who served in the French army, and in this way was able to realize the great necessity for men who could get into action at once. I also talked with friends here, who had joined various branches of the army and navy, as well as hospital units and the American Field Service, regarding the experiences they had encountered. I found that, if I went into the army, it would mean delay, the one thing I wanted to avoid. The navy did not appeal, because I felt I was needed more in France in the war zone. The hospital units did not appeal because I realized that I had had no preparation and could do very little for wounded men.

The American Field Service had the strongest appeal, because I was assured by the recruiting officers that I could get immediate action and that my services would be greatly appreciated. I realized this fact, because the French Government had asked the American Ambulance Field Service to organize units of volunteer transport drivers immediately after the United States had declared war. The request was for 10,000 men capable of driving heavy transport trucks under all kinds of conditions, transporting munitions and supplies from the base rails of the trenches.

I had heard quite a lot about the character of the men back of the American Field Service in this country, and knew about the wonderful good the American boys had accomplished in the French army; they have been able to hold the respect of the Allies for the United States, and how they have been able in a small way to partly pay back the big debt we owe France for the help she gave our own country during the Revolutionary war. I felt it would be a real privilege to be associated with such men.

In this war to win, and establish freedom for all times, we must have men and money. There are men who are willing and anxious to go and give all they have; there are men who cannot go, but who can and will gladly give money after they once understand how badly it is needed and how they will be helping themselves by doing something to bring the war to a successful conclusion.

I have felt much interested in your campaign in Zanesville, to raise funds and I believe, if the people there fully realize what the men going into the American Field Service have done, and will do in the future, they will gladly contribute a large amount of money.

Hoping you will meet with great success, and that I may have the pleasure of seeing you and the men you are able to recruit somewhere in France in the near future, I am, Yours very truly,

MARSHALL J. ENGLAND.
Mr. Varney will give information regarding enlistments while in the city making arrangements for the day Saturday. A large number of young girls will sell ribbon tags, containing the colors of the allies, to raise funds to finance the service. The monthly expense is $35.00, which is paid from donations of Americans.

GIFTS TO K. OF C. FUND IS SERVICE TO NATION IN NEED

The K. of C. campaign to raise funds to assist in establishing recreation centers in the army and navy camps will begin tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, closing Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock.

The committee in charge feels that enough has been published to fully enlighten the public as to the character of the work, and the signed statements as published coming from some of Newark's foremost citizens should be convincing of the necessity of supporting it.

The committee wishes again to impress upon the minds of the public the following facts. The money collected will be used for the comfort of all the boys in the camps, regardless of race, color or creed. The government directs this work but does not supply funds. The Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. have pledged themselves to finance it. Both organizations must raise their own funds. This campaign is the K. of C. effort. However the name of the Y. M. C. A. has been frequently used for comparison and to rightly give credit where credit is due.

As to the religious use of these centers we wish to call attention to the fact that on the Mexican border the buildings of both organizations were open to all and frequently religious services of four or five different creeds were held in the same building in one day.

The subscriptions are payable either cash or divided in payments, to be paid at the Licking County Bank. Mail subscriptions should be sent to E. J. McCarthy, 16 North Park Place.

Give willingly. Remember, your donation is for the welfare of the Nation and the soldier boys as well. Some of them are receiving their final call today.

SPEED OF TANLAC IMPRESSES ERMAN

Arcade Druggist Comments Upon Brilliant Success Master Medicine Achieved Last Saturday.

Tanlac proved a headliner at Erman's Arcade drug store Saturday. At the closing hour, 10 p. m., Druggist Erman remarked: "I say this has been a banner day for Tanlac." That Tanlac is a strong favorite with dyspeptic, nervous men and women cannot be disputed. Dossie Conner, 109 Jackson street, Newark, says: "I have used Tanlac for stomach trouble with splendid success. It has not only relieved me of sour stomach, bloating and palpitation, but my nerves are improved, I sleep better and am a great deal stronger. Tanlac also drove away that tired feeling, gave me an appetite and put color in my face. My health's really excellent now."

Tanlac, the new vegetable tonic, stomachic, appetizer, combatant, and invigorant, is being specially introduced at Erman's Arcade drug store, where the Tanlac man gives the particulars to steadily growing crowds daily. Tanlac may also be procured at the Evans pharmacy, (Wardens hotel block, east side square), Newark. Adv.

SHERIFF PLACES WILD MAN IN JAIL

Muskingum County Sheriff Evans went to Frazersburg Sunday and took charge of Richard Thomas, about 55, a typical wild man. Thomas, who is demented, had been in the Frazersburg neighborhood for the past ten days, and had been frightening women and children by his conduct.

Despite the heat he was dressed as if for arctic weather and in addition to this several rugs, coats and sweaters, carried an overcoat and wore arctic over his shoes. He claims a dozen places of residence and is thought to have come from the vicinity of Portsmouth. He was short of his matted beard and hair and made acquaintance with the uses of water and soap before being placed with other prisoners at the jail. An inquest in lunacy will be held in his case within the next few days if his place of residence is not learned.
